

existing worker means a current employee who has a one month or more employment relationship with their employer and has actively fulfilled work duties for this period. The one month working relationship could be full-time or on a part-time/casual employment equivalent basis. Existing workers have access to employee entitlements and therefore do not include volunteers. Registration with a Labour Hire Company does not satisfy the 'existing worker' requirement, unless at the commencement of the training the prospective student has been engaged in employment for a period of one month or more and is currently employed.

government subsidy means the amount of public funding the Queensland Government will contribute towards the cost of training and assessment services for an eligible student in a subsidised qualification or course. The subsidy is paid directly to the PQS.

inclusive practice means a training and assessment approach where all students are supported, valued and respected for their differences as they develop new skills. For further information see <https://training.qld.gov.au/providers/inclusive>.

inducement means the offer of gifts or money to a person or business to entice or persuade that person or business.

key personnel means an individual:

- (a) who is concerned in or takes part in the management of the Supplier;
- (b) who is an employee or agent of the Supplier with duties of such responsibility that his or her conduct may fairly be assumed to represent the Supplier in relation to its business;
- (c) who exercises a degree of control or influence over the management or direction of the Supplier including those who participate in making decisions that affect the business of the applicant or who has the capacity to significantly affect the future operations and financial standing;
- (d) who has the ability or capacity to determine the outcome of decisions about the financial and operating policies of the Supplier.

module means a unit of education or training that can be completed on its own or as part of an accredited course. Modules may also result in the attainment of one or more units of competency. For module count see competency count.

National VET regulator means the body established by section 155 of the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011.

NVR registered training organisation means an organisation registered by the National VET Regulator as a registered training organisation under the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011.

pre-qualified supplier (PQS) means a registered training organisation pre-approved by the department to deliver publicly funded training and assessment services for a program in Queensland (also referred to as 'supplier' in the PQS Agreement).

program means a Queensland Government investment program for subsidising training and assessment services to achieve a nationally recognised training outcome for eligible students.

recognition of prior learning or RPL means an assessment process that assesses an individual's formal, non-formal and informal learning to determine the extent to which that individual has achieved the required learning outcomes, competency outcomes, or standards for entry to, and/or partial or total completion of, a VET qualification.

record means a written, printed or electronic document providing evidence that activities have been performed.

record of results means a record of all learning leading to an AQF qualification or an accredited unit in which a student is enrolled and is issued by an authorised issuing organisation. In Australia this may be called a transcript of results, academic transcript, record of achievement or statement of results.

registration means formal registration by the National VET Regulator under the Act. A training organisation/person covered by the Act must be registered in order to deliver and assess nationally recognised training, and issue nationally recognised VET qualifications.

